EMERGING ARTISTS IN THE LANE

Your art collection has to start somewhere! We know that collecting art can be daunting — so many styles and disciplines at every price point. Introducing "stARTer gallery" — a separate cluster of tents located on Bethesda Lane, featuring local and emerging artists showcasing their works to first-time and novice art collectors. To assist with the process, student art curators are on-hand to ensure your connections with the artists are personal and meaningful.

OUR JURY

Our jury has the honor of evaluating every artist application to determine our roster of participating artists. They each bring a unique point-of-view from the arts world, supported by years of knowledge and experience. During the festival, jurists will visit each booth to determine the 16 category winners, as well as award one artist the coveted "Best in Show" prize.

HILARY-MORGAN WATT is the Digital Engagement Manager for the Smithsonian's Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden. With thirteen years of experience in museums and galleries, she has enjoyed working in communications, exhibition development, collections, and visitor services. Ms. Watt has led digital strategy workshops across the Smithsonian, taught at The George Washington University, lectured at the State Department and Georgetown University, and completed her Masters in Museum Studies from The George Washington University.

TIM TATE is a Washington, DC native, and has worked with glass as a sculptural medium for the past 25 years. Co-Founder of the Washington Glass School, Tim's work is in the permanent collections of a number of museums, including the Smithsonian's American Art Museum and the Mint Museum. He won the 2010 Virginia Groot Foundation award for sculpture, second place in the 2017 London Contemporary Art Prize, and is a 2018 James Renwick Alliance Distinguished Artist, among many other honors.

MICHELE MANATT was elected president of the James Renwick Alliance (JRA) in October 2018. The JRA is a leading organization fostering education, connoisseurship and public appreciation of American craft art. The JRA conducts artist workshops, recognizes artistic excellence with awards, and provides financial support to museums and non-profit institutions including the Renwick Gallery of the Smithsonian American Art Museum. Ms. Manatt is a member of the SAAM Director's Circle along with her husband.

OUR PARTNERS

The 22nd Bethesda Row Arts Festival is made possible through the generous support of our partners. Please patronize these businesses throughout the year.

AARP · ALCO · Bethesda Magazine · Bethesda Row · Chesapeake Framing Co. · EagleBank · Honest · iHeart Radio · Kidville · LeafFilter · Maryland Sunrooms · Purple Line Transit Partners · Tripper Bus · 97.1 WASH-FM

Program information correct as of 9/3/19. Please check our website for latest updates.

FESTIVAL MAP

Be sure to visit the website [bethesdarowarts.org] to explore the interactive map, complete with artists' information and photos.

DRIVING

The public garage in the middle of the festival is accessible from Bethesda Avenue via Arlington Road, and other lots near the event are also open. Please do not park in private lots, or the lots of other businesses.

BIKING

The Capital Crescent Trail crosses the show at the corner of Woodmont Avenue and Bethesda Avenue. There is plenty of bike parking throughout the show. Please do not block sidewalks or walkways.

JOIN US!

One of the region's most exciting and esteemed outdoor festivals returns Saturday, October 12 and Sunday, October 13. Overnight, Bethesda Row's Shopping and Entertainment District will transform into an outdoor art gallery, featuring more than 200 juried fine arts and crafts from artists around the nation. "Art Fair Sourcebook" and "Sunshine Artists" have recognized the event as one of the most important in the country, and over 45,000 attendees agree annually! Explore the artists, visit the local retailers, and follow us on social media.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR VISIT

1 EASY ACCESS: The festival takes place on the single square block of Bethesda Row, located in Bethesda, Maryland (Woodmont, Ave., Bethesda Ave., Bethesda Ln., and Elm St.). The streets are closed to traffic, making walking easy. Garage parking is available, and Metro is only two blocks away.

2 GET TO KNOW THE ARTISTS: Every artist is listed in this program — many with links of their websites and social media. Our website [bethesdarowarts.org] has even more information, including photos, artist statements, and links to all of their social media.

3 MOBILE MAP: Use your smartphone during the festival for our new interactive map. Search for artists based on your current location, and find your way to special partner tents, the stARTer gallery, and the show information booth.

4 FAMILY ACTIVITIES: The festival is a great place for young ones to begin their appreciation of fine art and crafts. In addition to learning from our esteemed artists, children of all ages can make their own creation in our spin-art tent, and share it using #BRAFkids!

5 SUPPORTING YOUNG ARTISTS: On Saturday, visit the Chance Auction Tent to purchase tickets for an art auction/raffle supporting youth programming for two local nonprofits — Glen Echo Park Partnership for Arts and Culture [glenechopark.org] and DC Strings [dcstrings.org].
